

TRANSPARENCY 1

You know there are people sleeping in the streets of our cities, you've seen them; you know there is the poison of bigotry infesting our society, you've heard it; you know that we are poisoning our rivers and our skies, you've smelled it, you've choked on it, you've shed tears over the tragedy of it. But what are you going to do about it? Do you have the will?

(David McCullough, Biographer)